Three of our employees enjoying coffee and discussing Business Banking with North Valley Bank.

“One of the things I enjoy most about being with North Valley is the personal approach we take with our customers.”

“I’m able to go out into the marketplace, go to the businesses around and actually see their businesses first hand and meet with the clients.”

“Not making them take time out of their day but instead showing an interest and going to their business and accommodating their schedules.”

“It’s just been a great experience being a part of a community bank where you can really see that you can make a difference.”

“Yeah, that’s certainly true.”
